

Want to know what really happened in Copenhagen?

Did we seal the deal and what does this all mean for business?

Is the Copenhagen Accord strong enough? Will countries now commit by the end of the month to specific targets that can curb a global temperature rise to below 2 degrees Celsius and act in concert to ensure that a legally binding treaty is reached later in the year?

With a .09 degree increase in temperature across Australia over the last decade, we are well on our way to being one of the countries to be hardest hit by climate change in the world.

Do we want a land constantly ravaged by drought, fire, dust storms, flood, cyclones and storms? Or can we harness the opportunity and build a robust green economy?

Apart from the Government representatives in Copenhagen, there were over 25,000 members of civil society. There were over 1000 side events and exhibitions presenting the latest thought leadership in a raft of topics from curbing population growth to leading technologies and non financial reporting. Until there is a global binding agreement, this is what will lead our world.

To share in the thought leadership from Copenhagen and hear the views of those who were there, to learn what this means to you, your business and community, to discover the latest about non-financial reporting and to glean insight into how the global business community are tapping into the opportunities of climate change...
